Henry Schein MicroMD® Patient Portal

Flexible, two-way patient-to-practice communications

Medical professionals interact with their patients hundreds of times a day, whether answering questions, collecting or sending information. These interactions can be time consuming and costly for your practice.

The MicroMD Patient Portal provides patients and office staff a web site containing a number of easy-to-use features that will save time for both patients and office staff, including:

- Collecting patient form data online prior to service
- Answering patient questions
- Setting up appointments online
- · Securely sending records and results to your patients

Customize your practice landing page

When your patient logs on to the MicroMD Patient Portal, they will view your customized landing page. Welcome your patients, list the practice office hours or provide directions. Regardless of what information you provide, your patients will have an "at a glance" look at your practice information.

The MicroMD EMR user also has the ability to not publish, if it is decided that the information does not need to be shared with the patient on the Patient Portal.

Utilize the annotation tool to remove sensitive data from any document or draw attention to certain elements. In addition, MicroMD EMR users also can view a categorized list of items sent to the MicroMD Patient Portal and check on the status of a published item.
